SERIOUS ABOUT HAPPINESS

We have defined our sustainability work under three themes:

Climate and Environment

We are aware of the serious environmental threats that our world is facing: climate change, resource scarcity, loss of biodiversity. This challenging context motivates us to do our part in helping to create a more sustainable world. The shift towards a circular economy is indispensable. By converting our business models to be more circular, we are future-proofing our business and respecting planetary boundaries at the same time. Framery has paid special attention to better understand its position in circular economy and climate change. Our GHG emission reduction target is approved by the Science Based Targets.

People and Society

We want to take special care of our employees, customers and the all the people we work with. We have a strong culture backing up our sky-high growth and the happiness of our people. We want to especially invest in our people, because we believe that happy Framerians make the best possible products and provide our customers with the best service – in turn making them happy as well.

Fair Business

What ´s our secret to sustainable growth? Well, simply, we don't engage in any funny business. We pay our taxes fair and square; we do honest deals with our partners and dealers; we pay fair wages and we offer our customers the best possible product. Furthermore, we have continued to keep all our production at our Tampere headquarters in Finland. This way, we can support our local community by offering jobs in our home municipality of Pirkanmaa.
